Frequently asked questions:

What is a pre-signing contract review?

A pre-signing contract review is a full written letter of advice that you will receive from our lawyers containing a summary of the key points to the contract highlighting any matters of concern.

Do I need a pre-signing contract review?

Although always highly recommended, you only need the contract review if you have not done your own research into the requirements of purchasing a property, have not read through the contract in detail yourself and are not already 100% comfortable with the whole process of making an offer.

Pre-Signing Contract Review Services

Written Pre-signing contract review	$220.00
(existing residential property)	inc GST
Verbal Pre-signing contract review	$440.00
(existing residential property)	inc GST

Why are the council and water searches marked as "TBA"?

There are 78 councils in all of Queensland, each with their own price list for their services. We can only provide you an estimate search cost based on the area that you intend to purchase in. We also have no control over how much the council would charge come settlement, so the best we can do is provide you with an estimate based on historical data. Please provide us with the council that the property is in if you would like to know the estimate for these searches.

What is the difference between an electronic settlement and paper settlement?

Electronic settlements use an online platform to transfer the title to the property and the settlement funds electronically. Paper settlements are the traditional way of settling property and require the exchange of cheques and paper transfer documents. In Queensland the parties can choose but given that electronic settlement is more cost effective and efficient, we always opt to do complete the transaction electronically unless it is not possible on a case by case basis.

How do I get started?

We can start work for you as soon as you provide us with a contract with instructions on what you'd like us to do with it. You can also give us the real estate agent's details and we'll chase down the contract for you.

Acceptance
